OFFICE OF THE PROPERTY RIGHTS OMBUDSMAN

On March 14, 2008 at the Mid-Year Bar Convention held in St. George, Utah, the Utah State Bar and the Utah Bar Board of Commissioners presented the Raymond S. Uno Award for the Advancement of Minorities in the Legal Profession to Su J. Chon. Ms. Chon is a staff attorney in the Utah Office of the Property Rights Ombudsman.

This award is given to honor publicly those whose professionalism, public service, and public dedication have significantly enhanced the administration of justice, the delivery of legal services, and the improvement of the profession. Ms. Chon was honored for her work with law students and lawyers in the areas of mentoring, professional and career development and volunteer service. Seeing some needs in the legal community, she created the UMBA 411 and JobLert email listserv to send job opportunities and other pertinent information to the members of the Utah Minority Bar. She has also organized networking socials; spoken at seminars regarding professional development, networking and advancement; and organized the Law Student Mentoring Marathon. She also volunteers as a mentor for the Third District Juvenile Court's Village Project.
